

Inbound Mobility Opportunity

FOR POSTGRADUATE STUDENTS
AT INSTITUTE OF PLANTATION STUDIES
UNIVERSITI PUTRA MALAYSIA

25 November to 10 December 2017

Open to postgraduate students in foreign universities worldwide
(limited to 10 students only)

BENEFITS

Attending International Conference on Big Data Applications in Agriculture (ICBAA 2017) worth of USD250

Exposure to plantation related research activities through attachment to research laboratories

Exposure to Malaysian oil palm upstream and downstream activities

Networking with ICBAA participants and local postgraduate students

TENTATIVE PROGRAM

International Conference on Big Data Applications in Agriculture (ICBAA 2017)

Visits to key players of Malaysian oil palm industry [Malaysian Palm Oil Board (MPOB) and Sime Darby Plantations]

Educational trips to Putrajaya and Kuala Lumpur city

Attachment to research laboratories (molecular biology laboratory, transgenic greenhouse, microbiology laboratory, mycology laboratory)

USD 400 (PER STUDENT) FEES COVERING

Shuttle service from Kuala Lumpur International Airport to UPM campus and vice versa

Accommodations

Foods (breakfast, lunch and dinner)

ICBAA registration fees

Transportation

Applicants must be proficient in English language. Please send your CV, a copy of passport, a support letter from the applicant's supervisor, a sponsorship letter (can be sent later), along with a page of motivation letter (Please state how the mobility program will be beneficial to your research studies) before 10th October 2017 to:

Dr. Farrah Melissa Muharam,
Head,
Laboratory of Plantation Science and Technology,
Institute of Plantation Studies, University Putra Malaysia, 43400 UPM, Serdang, Selangor, Malaysia.

farrahm@upm.edu.my +603-89471044

and ikpupm@gmail.com

Results to be known by 15th October
2017